Sarah Garthe, M.S., is currently the Manager of Regulatory Affairs for ChromaDex, Inc. In this role, Mrs. Garthe oversees the obtaining and maintaining ingredient authorizations for novel ingredient and product registrations/notifications necessary for commercialization. As a part of the regulatory team, Sarah has managed the resources need in achieving novel ingredient status for nicotinamide riboside chloride from the top four influential regulatory bodies in the world, including USFDA, European Commission, Health Canada, and the Therapeutic Goods Administration of Australia.

Sarah is also an active member of CRN's New Dietary Ingredient (NDI) Working Group, whose recent focus has been on the development of the NDI Master File concept, the intent of which is to help protect intellectual investments made by ingredient manufacturers.

Mrs. Garthe graduated with a Masters in Chemistry from the University of Oregon and a bachelors in Chemistry from the University of Colorado, Boulder. She has spent most of her career in the dietary supplement and natural product industry.
